

Ben Hanlin

Funny Magician Ben Hanlin has been seen on TV shows all over The World such as, The Tonight Show with Jimmy Fallon, Celebrity Juice and as a contestant on ITV's Dancing on Ice (semi finalist).

He first appeared on our screens as the star of his own ITV2 show, "Tricked" which saw him pulling magic pranks on celebrities and members of the public.

More recently he has been making content all across social media which has resulted in over 2 million followers and a number of partnerships with brands such as, Amazon Prime and McDonalds..

His big passion is still performing LIVE in front of audiences and his goal is always to make his shows funny, amazing and interactive! So if you're in the audience, you may become part of the show!

Ben Hanlin

Magician

Either on stage in West End shows or at corporate events, Ben's act can be summed up in four words –

Amazing. Funny. Inoffensive. Interactive.

Amazing – From reading people's minds to magically changing the contents inside a sealed coke can. Wherever he goes, Ben leaves audiences minds', completely blown!

Funny – The glue that holds everything together is Ben's witty personality. Ben's goal is to make sure that when audiences aren't being "wowed", they're laughing.

Inoffensive – Ben prides himself on being "100% inoffensive" with all of his material. At no point will he be controversial or alienate members of the audience.

Interactive – Most of his tricks involve audience participation at some level which means crowds feel they are part of the show, and stay engaged throughout.

A typical corporate stage performance will vary from 15-45 mins.

"Ben delivered a fantastic show at an event in Brussels, he kept a room that included 62 Nationalities, transfixed throughout. He has wonderful natural engagement with the audience who were left completely bamboozled by his performance"
